LGR And Cornell University In Kenya

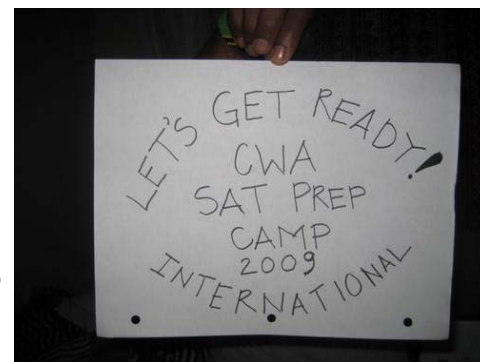

Cross World Africa Inc. and Cornell students brought Let's Get Ready to Kenya this summer. Kevin Thompson, Executive Director of CWA and Assistant Coach for the Cornell track and field program, accompanied a team of coaches and runners who served as LGR coaches.

Together, they provided SAT tutoring and guidance on the U.S. college admissions process to over 40 high school students in Eldoret, Kenya.

"We are excited to partner with CWA," says Rachel Cleaver, Director of Program Development at Let's Get Ready. "The work they do in Kenya is a noble mission--one that we are thrilled to be a part of."
